

Annual Training for Dental Occupational Safety and Health (OSHA)

Would you like an opportunity to make annual occupational health and safety fun?

Dental practice owners and team can update exposure control and hazard communication office procedures by attending Annual Training for Dental Occupational Safety & Health (OSHA).

Participants will strengthen their skills in assessment, planning, implementation and evaluation of exposure control and hazard communication. Updates in research and technology will be presented. This will help satisfy requirements of annual training in accordance with the Bloodborne Pathogen Rule 1910.1030.

Seating is limited - sign up now!
